JHINGANS JOTTINGS

Hi

Emailing, interneting and today's connected world one needs a good anti virus program. We recommend latest release of Norton or McAfee. But installing the program alone is not enough for protecting the computer from new viruses. Both these companies provide free regular updates that must be downloaded to keep the protection up to date.

Another precaution we recommend for emails is to delete all attachments that you have not asked for or those that are not explained in the message. Sometimes a virus on sender's machine will send another mail with an attachment that will infect your machine.

In our opinion the onus of sending a virus free email lies with the sender and keeping virus free web site is the job of the Webmaster.

Suraj Jaitly of Ludhiana, our correspondent for Punjab, was suspended on December 2, 2000 from philatelic.net's philatelic email network for posting multiple copies, 8, and distributing a new virus. The posting contained India's Stamp Program for 2001, lifted straight from our issue # 7 of October 9, 2000 without any acknowledgement of source, and without corrections in light of news published in our newsletters since. We hope that he would abstain from such action in the future or else we would also be forced to suspend him.

Besides keeping philatelists updated we have also visualized the additional role for this newsletter as an online news service provider to editors and publishers of philatelic periodicals. We will gladly provide permission to reprint material from the newsletter with proper credit for source. We are not in competition with other monthly and quarterly magazines and we know philatelic publishing is not a moneymaking venture for any publisher, yours truly included.

India is a large country and newsgathering is a resource intensive activity. Although this is our first electronic magazine, this is the 9th philatelic periodical we are editing, so we speak from experience. We consider ourselves fortunate that we are news-prone (we really believe it), have learned to work in shorter deadlines, have developed, over years, a mountain of patience required for the job and are being helped by several persons. We have in past edited two major newsmagazines – India Philatelics Journal in 1978-1981 and Capital Stamp News in 1985. Both were issued bi-weekly (14 days) and the latter, print run 5000, was awarded a Silver-Bronze at APS Stamp show USA in 1986.

Until next week, please enjoy the rest of the newsletter.

- POSTAL STATIONERY

Postcard, Inland Letter Card, Envelope, Aerogramme and Registered Envelope with the exhibition logo in single color, have been issued to mark this exhibition. India Security Press Nashik Road printed all items in the quantity of 300,000 each except for the Inland Letter Card that is printed 1 million.

The first set of stationery was scheduled for release on October 2, 2000 and was available on October 9, 2000. It included a 25p postcard, 850p Aerogramme and 1750p Registered Envelope.

The second set of stationery items was issued on November 15, 2000 and comprised of a 200p Inland Letter Card and a 300p Envelope.

4000 each of these special stationery items, except Inland Letter Card, were distributed to all philatelic bureaus; Calcutta, Mumbai, Delhi and Chennai received an additional quantity of 25,000 each. The Inland Letter Card was supplied in the quantity of 8,000 each to all bureaus while Calcutta, Mumbai, Delhi and Chennai received an additional 150,000 each. The normal distribution for a postal stationery new issue is 2000 each to seven philatelic bureaus.

- MARGINAL SHEET INSCRIPTIONS

To publicize the show messages have been printed on the margins of commemorative stamps in English and Hindi on either side of the sheets.

The first issue to have the inscription was the set of four stamps on the Flora & Fauna of Manipur that was also the first of the three sets for the 2000. Next the set of four stamps on Migratory Birds was issued on May 24, 2000 with 'Visit INDEPEX-ASIANA 2000, at Calcutta from December 7-12 2000' inscription in English and Hindi on the margins of either side of the sheets including the 'mixed sheet'. The sheets of all commemorative stamps issued afterwards bear these inscription, some are in smaller size and some in larger size.

RESEARCH NOTES

R Howard Courtney of USA
I have been working on Express Delivery covers. I have several articles published in India that a friend sent me. I would like to correspond with others who are interested in this subject. The same goes for the Refugee Relief stamps. They are very confusing to anyone outside of India. There are so many fakes on the market (The overprints) and I have a very difficult time sorting out what I have - and I have a lot of used rubber stamped overprints as well. I have recently updated my website:
<http://friends.peoria.lib.il.us/community/howardcourtney/index.html>

are interested in all aspects of philately and postal history of India, Indian Princely States, Portuguese India, and French Settlements in India. We are also interested in revenues, cinderellas, philatelic history, postal orders, post office cash certificates, travel and accommodation services, money transfer, banking, and insurance services, and all other services provided by the post office till date. Undoubtedly this is a tall order and we do not claim to even entertain the thought of collecting a percent of the material on subjects mentioned. However we have devoted past 11 years in pursuit of collecting knowledge on these and have a commitment to continue doing so for another 9 years at least, God willing, irrespective of any rewards.

We now have a platform to share our accumulation of information through this newsletter and our websites. We do plan to publish the results of our labor in shape of books, however a lot of information shall be best suited in the format of an article or short note. We also hope to learn a great deal from the interaction with all other philatelists who we hope will contribute by supplementing, expanding, commenting, questioning, and correcting on matters presented here.

Our own primary focus is on developing 'tools for research scholars' in book form such as bibliography and postal rates, however for articles and short notes we have an 'anything goes' policy.

We begin the ball rolling with a question. Do you know or know some one who knows where we can find information on Portuguese India used abroad in Macau and Timor.

ASK US

Please send your queries in detail (illustrations welcome) on all matters related to Philately and Postal History of India and Indian States. We will attempt to provide an answer to you online. Submit here askus@stampsfindia.com
