NEW STAMPS RELEASED

ASHOKA CHAKRA WINNERS: NEERJA BHANOT AND RANDHIR PRASAD VERMA

Vice President of India, Bhairon Singh Shekhawat released a set of 2 set-tenant commemorative stamps in the denomination of Rs. 5 each on Ashoka Chakra Winners Neerja Bhanot and Randhir Prasad Verma on October 8, 2004 at a simple function attended by the Minister of State for Communications & Information Technology, Dr. Shakeel Ahmad at New Delhi.

Neerja Bhanot has the pride of being the only Indian to have been conferred with the "Heroism Award of the Flight Safety Foundation". She is internationally acclaimed as 'the heroine of the hijack' soon after the incident of hijack of Pan American Airways flight from Bombay to New York when the plane was hijacked at Karachi Airport on September 5, 1986. On the fateful day, she as the Flight Purser of Pan American Airways, showed exemplary courage in coming forward and identifying herself as the crew member before the terrorist-hijackers. She also comforted the passengers, especially the elders and kids. At one point of time she even hid the passports of Americans who were the prime targets of the terrorists. Finally, at the end, when the hijackers opened fire and set off explosives, she acted swiftly and opened the emergency doors and helped a number of passengers to escape. However, while shielding three children from a hail of bullets, she was fatally wounded by the gunfire.

Randhir Prasad Verma, who joined the Indian Police Service in 1974, had the pride of eliminating the notorious 'Matka Gamblers' gang. On the fateful day of 3rd January 1991, immediately on coming to know about an attempt by dacoits to rob the Hirapur Branch of Bank of India in Dhanbad, he rushed to the spot barely with the help of his bodyguards and entered the building. He faced a hail of gunfire by the dacoits. He took out his service revolver and asked the robbers to surrender. However, the robbers fatally wounded him by two gun shots. When the robbers tried to escape, they were caught by the stunned spectators and two of them were lynched by the mob. Randhir Prasad Verma set an example for the society by his act of gallantry. He was not intimidated despite being outnumbered by the robbers who were armed with superior weapons.

Sankha Samanta designed the stamps and the First Day Cover and Alka Sharma designed the pictorial first day postmark. Brochure containing write-up and technical data was issued on the occasion. The First Day Cover and the Brochure are priced at Rs 2 each. India Security Press printed the stamps by Photo Gravure in the quantity of 0.6 million each.

He was trained in dance at Uday Shankar India Culture Center at Almora and thereafter got a break as a dance director in movies. He then became an assistant director and finally a director with "Bazzi" in 1951. Baazi was a super hit and he married the playback singer of the movie, Geeta Roy in 1953. Guru Dutt was an established an acclaimed director, actor and producer in 1950's and early 1960's.

JAINISM ON STAMPS OF CANADA

During the last quarter of the 20th century, 'brain drain' from India brought few Jains to Niagara region. They were scattered all around and observed their religious practices within their homes. With the passing of time, they established themselves and got together to celebrate holy days and festivals. Since they were very few, they could not have a temple of their own. They joined hands with local Hindus who had formed in 1985 the Niagara Hindu Samaj. Later they established in 2001, Shiv Mandir (Temple) at 5284 Second Avenue, Niagara Falls, Ontario, L2H 4K2, Canada. The Jains felt the need to have their place of worship. They requested the Hindus to share their sacred temple and the request was gladly accepted. Two Pratimajis (icons) of 23rd and 24th Tirthankars - Parshwanath Bhagwan and Mahavir Swami and a tablet of Namokar Mantra (Universal Prayer) made of marble are brought from India.

A two-day event for the consecratory installation ceremony, known as "Murti Pratishtha Mahotsav" was organized. On October 2 and 3, 2004, Pujyashri Chitrabhanuji blessed the Pratishtha Mahotsav with Vidhikar;

Naresh Shah guided the rituals assisted by resident Pundit Ramesh Chandji and Vasant Sheth provided the music. The ceremony started with welcome by NHS president Kamlesh Sharma and then Pravachan (discourse) by Chitrabhanuji. Snatra Puja, Kumbh Sthapana, Akhand Deep, Aarti, Mangal Deep and Shanti Kalash followed by Swamivatsalya Pritibhojan (holy feast) and on next day, Snatra Puja, 36 Abhisheks (18 of each Tirthankar), Murti Pratishtha (Mhoorat at 12:39 p.m.), Aarti, Mangal Deep, and Shanti Kalash, was conducted, followed by Pravachan by Chitrabhanuji, Swamivatsalya.

Along with this, the Jain Associations In North America (JAINA) held their Executive Committee meeting. JAINA president Anop Vora spoke Khshmapana (forgiveness). Mayor and other local dignitaries attended the function. Souvenir book with introduction of Jainism, special articles like Jainism in Canada and report with pictures of this event will be published on Diwali combing with annual publication. A tent was erected in the parking area to accommodate more than four hundred of guests each day. Mahatma Gandhi's birthday was observed in the evening of October 2, 2004.

To commemorate this occasion, a Jain and a philatelist, Prakash Mody prepared a limited quantity of two special 'picture postage' stamps and a commemorative envelope. Canada's 'picture postage' is where one can customize the design of the stamp. The stamps have the designs of the above two Tirthankars, but the picture of Mahavir Swami is not the one that is installed. The envelope has the photograph of the two Pratimajis of Parshwnath Bhagwan and Mahavir Swami (again not the same as the one installed), and the Namokar Mantra that in the centre was installed. Regular postmark of the Niagara Falls post office was obtained on Saturday, 2 October 2004.

FAKE STAMP SCAM UPDATES

The Central Bureau of Investigation on October 8, 2004 raided the residences of five police officers of Maharashtra, Senior Inspector D K Ghule at Panvel, Sub-Inspector H M Vichare of Mumbai Crime Branch, Inspector Anil Deshmukh of Nashik city and Sub-Inspector R M Powar at Ambad in Nashik district in connection with the fake stamp scam.

Deputy Inspector General of Chennai Police's Crime Branch-Criminal Investigation Department, Amit Verma was questioned by the CBI sleuths on October 12, 2004 after collecting evidence suggesting that the local police did not take the investigations to its logical end despite registering two fake stamp paper cases in April 2002. Verma, a 1978 batch IPS officer, was asked to explain why facts of the two cases were overlooked even as he was aware of the findings of the probe being the supervising officer in the two cases. The Chennai Crime Branch-CID had developed these two cases on their own source information. Telgi was selling fake stamps through a licensed stamp vendor, Marina Services. On record, the local police had shown recovery of a paltry Rs 5,000 worth fake stamp papers. It is alleged that the local police had illegally detained Marina Services proprietor Mohammed Nizammudin for about three to four days in their bid to extort bribe. The alleged connivance between the local police and Telgi associates could also be ascertained that Karnataka StampIT, the special investigating team formed to probe the scam, recovered fake stamp papers worth Rs 1.7 billion fake stamp papers from the same Telgi associates in Chennai in October 2002, which was five months after the Tamil Nadu police had launched the probe and arrested them.

READERS FORUM

<Dear Reader, Your feedback is important to us as it helps evolve the newsletter. Please do let us have your thoughts and suggestions.>

ZULAIHA MOHAMED

I had been visiting Stanley Gibbon's catalogue archives and found that SG numbers are not allotted to any of the recent Indian stamps; by 'recent' I mean stamps after 2002. In the case of British Commonwealth, even stamps of fairly new countries like Swaziland are included & among the foreign countries, places like Azairbaijan have been given SG numbers. Do you think this is because the negligence of the Indian postal department?

Some years back, I had some correspondence going on with Stanley Gibbons about the missing numbers (of Indian stamps) in their published catalogue. I remember feeling quite ashamed when they remarked that they get quite a lot of such complaints only about Indian stamps!

Can you kindly look into this matter?

PHILATELY IN EARLY YEARS

Compiled by Jeevan Jyoti, Bhubaneshwar

The hobby of stamp collecting is losing its charm day by day as new generation has switched over to modern electronic entertainments. Today philatelic societies have a very limited number of members. In local philatelic exhibitions the exhibits are of very poor standard. Can you imagine its popularity hundred years ago? It had an important place in news papers. Read these old clippings.

The Statesman, 106 years ago - October 27, 1898

That enterprising little situation, the Philatelic Society of India, continues as lively as ever. It now numbers over a hundred members, and its journal, edited by Mr. C. Stewart-Wilson, is a production of very considerable interest. The number for September, which has recently appeared, is illustrated with representations of a number of old and rare stamp issues, and contains a mass of notes and correspondence relating to stamp collecting in this country, which cannot fail to be attractive to all who concern themselves with this fascinating pursuit.`

The Tribune, 96 years ago - August 18, 1908

PIGEON POST

The pigeon seems to have been used as a messenger from the very earliest times (writes a Manchester Guardian correspondent) and its enormous speed must have been of so great a benefit that it is interesting to consider why pigeon posts were not regularly organised. Lithgow, the great Scotch traveller (1852-1645) who spent 19 years in the East and introduced into England coffee drinking and Turkish baths, records the facts that the official carrier pigeons did the journey from Babylon to Aleppo in 48 hours, a 30 days' journey. And only a few years ago the Mission Magazine announced the inauguration of a pigeon post, in ten relays, from Nyassa to Zanzibar, by which news was carried 300 kilometers in six hours. Returning the birds is an evident but not insuperable difficulty. The hawk is the most likely explanation. Pigeons flying on a given line would draw all the hawks for miles around until the route was impassable. Hawks are quick to appreciate such chances. They are to be found, for instance, seated in numbers along the poles on the Canadian Pacific Railway, ready to swoop on the small birds frightened from the bushes by the rushing locomotive. The trains are so few that the small birds do not get used to them. In England the Railway cutting is the nesting place and sanctuary of our rarest and most timid songsters.
